DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR

"DIABETES SPECIALIST."

RARE AND INVALUABLE SPECIFIC FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES"

After a short visit to the Madras Presidency on professional work Dr. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, the well-known Diabetes Specialist has RETURNED TO BOMBAY and will be glad to treat "DIABETES" suffering patients.

During the short stay he has made here before he has treated and has completely cured many persons of whom the following are a few :—

KANYALAL BADRIDAS, a Cotton Merchant, Bombay writes :—

"It gives me great pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's medicinal drugs. I was suffering from "Diabetes" for the last 12 years—Commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment—my urine was examined by the Bombay Municipal Analyst the Sp. Gravity was 1035 and sugar 5·62 per cent. After treatment, the examination of the same Municipal Analyst; and Dr. N. H. Clubwala M. D. B. Hy (Bombay) at Dr. Masina Hospital Pathological Laboratory "Sugar was found nil" and Sp. Gravity 1013.

Mr. BHAILAL V. KHOTHARI, B.A., LL.B., Wakil, High Court, Bombay, writes :—

"It gives me great and sincere pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's medical drugs. I was suffering from Diabetes for over 4 years and had tried many well-known doctors of Bombay but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of the said Doctor Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 7 complete weeks for me. As each week progressed the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course, in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a diabetes specialist in name but a specialist indeed in reality. My Sp. Gr. which was 1038 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of sugar per ounce of urine fell down from 24 to nil while sediments were not at all visible.

SHOCK ABSORBERS.

Signifies the employment of the elastic properties of air. As applied to the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber, it represents a stage of development and progress in shock-absorber construction insuring greater comfort, safety, economy, and satisfaction in automobiling never before known.

Appreciating the unequalled resiliency and elasticity of air as demonstrated by its efficiency in tires, our engineers, accomplished the heretofore impossible by utilizing air as the basic principle of the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber, and utilizing it in a manner so simple as to enable us to put the price of these absorbers within the reach of every automobile owner.

The Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber is a compressed air cushion. It consists of a steel cylinder in which an air pump having been set in action by an impulse spring gives air pressure which is automatically maintained by the up-and-down movement of the car as it passes over ruts and bumps.

The Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber gives one air cushion to take up the rebound. These air cushions take up the jolts and smooth out the road, saving the springs of the car by permitting them to act only when spring action is necessary. The driver is given a feeling of thorough steadiness and security, because the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber eliminates all ear-racking and spring-buckling lurch—not only the straightaway shocks and rebounds, but the annoying and dangerous side-aways. Greater speed is thus possible with safety; tire pounding is eliminated; and the motor freed from unnecessary jars.

The Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber is simple in construction. So long as nature supplies us with air the Bethlehem Pneumatic Shock Absorber must work. It has no constantly used springs to crystallize. It is quickly and conveniently applied.

PIECE GOODS.

The conditions prevailing in the Cloth Market at the present time can only be described as gloomy in spite of the auspicious occasions of "Devali." The absence of demand has been keenly felt. The inactivity is due chiefly to the lack of confidence in the present rates and buyers cannot be tempted to operate on a freer scale. The heavy accumulation of stocks has locked up the capital of dealers, who are now feeling the strain of finance, and being thus hampered, many of them are anxious to get rid of their holdings even an at sacrifices, but buyers have been disposed to adopt a waiting policy owing to the uncertainty regarding the future outlook. Prices here are too unsettled and do not encourage active trade at the moment. The "Swadeshi" movement has been in full swing and wherever possible preference is being given to locally made goods over manchester cloths. The lack of stability in the rate of exchange has been a constant source of anxiety to merchants, who are chary to do any forward business on that account.

Several Importing Firms have goods in hand, which have been brought on their own account at high prices with the favourable exchange in view. Efforts to dispose off the same have been fruitless as prices have declined in manchester and the rate of exchange has been unfavourable, and as the dispartly, between the prices offered by the merchants and those at which the firms are inclined to sell, cannot be bridged over business has not resulted. These firms will have to suffer very heavy losses and Dame Rumour has been whispering that two well-known Importing Firms will hardly be able to tide over their difficulties, as the amount of losses involved has been too big. The tightness of money in manchester has made matters worse for them. Many makers are anxious for orders and ready to sell at lower rates. Some shippers are recommending purchases at the present livel of values which is considered by them to be fair after the heavy decline, but buyers here do not wish to and to their commitments, until something definite is known regarding the future outlook.

The coal strike has been happily ended. The distress which would have resulted from this strike has been minimised by the almost universal adoption of short time in the cotton industry. The Cotton Mills at Heywood were closed from 28th October to 2nd November, rendering eight thousand operatives idle. The stoppages have also had the effect of postponing for one month the question of running on short time the mills spinning American Cotton, which comprise two-thirds of the total. In consequence of endeavours of the American firms to cancel unprecedently large orders with the Lancashire Cotton Trade owing to the falling prices, the American Section of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce has passed a unanimous resolution on the 4th instant that the sanctity of contracts should be maintained and that no cancelments should be agreed to. It is stated that two million sterling is involved and considerable concern is being manifested in Lancashire on that account.

Manchester Grey shirtings have been dull and drooping, and values have given way by eight annas per piece in Red end shirtings and twelve annas per piece in superior cloths. This has been found necessary to induce sales, but the tendency of buyers seems to be in favour of local mill cloths.

Local mill sheetings have been quoted in the bazaar at Rs. 1-11 to Rs. 1-12 and long cloths at Rs. 1-13 to Rs. 1-14 per lb. Transactions amongst the merchants have been confined to lots of one or two bales and the total sales have not been encouraging. But the Mills are reported to have sold to dealers about thirty thousand bales, including fancy cloths, for December, January, ebruary deliveries at an anna per lbs. less than rates ruling in the bazaar.

The quotations for the following chops of Greys and Whites are as under :

Home advices continue of a bearish character owing to lack of trade demand, and increasing crop estimates, except reactions dne to oversold conditions. We look for further lower prices.

As for forward business in the local market, much depends on the result of to-day's meeting of the cotton Brokers' association.

There was a tolerably good enquiry for ready cotton both old and new with prices well maintained for old deseriptions, and at somewhat higher prices for new descriptions.

BOMBAY AMUSEMENTS.

EXCELSIOR.

"Quo Vadis?" which has during the past week been the attraction at the Empress Theatre, is this week being transferred to the Excelsior. It is nearly seven years since this famous film last made its appearance at this theatre, and the claim made for it then that it is the finest film which has ever been produced remains just as good to-day, in spite of the lavish outlays which have been made on some even more ambitious films. "Quo Vadis?" is a stupendous film which has been witnessed by millions of people in all the continents of the world, and if there are any in Bombay who have not yet seen it the present opportunity should certainly not be neglected.

THE EMPIRE.

At the Empire the cinema goer may always be sure of an attractive programme. There the films are always of the best, and the new film which is being shown to-night and during the coming week is no exception to the general rule. "De Luxe Annie" is the tale, and the title suggests just what it is—a drama in which there are many light touches of piquancy. The day is gone of the heavy drama on the film—if ever it dawned, which is doubtful—and "De Luxe Annie" is a bright story of an aphasia victim, who subconsciously becomes a criminal, sub-consciously also flees from justice, and before the restoration of her memory and the usual happy ending of the story there are many exciting incidents. The leading rob in this film is taken by Norma Talmadge, and Miss Talmadge can always be relied upon to fill a dramatic part in a way which does not allow the onlooker's thoughts to wander.

EMPRESS THEATRE.

The great "Maciste", who will be remembered by all who saw the film "Cabiria," tops the bill at the Empress in an eight part drama which has as its title "The Helping Hand." As might be expected, the helping hand is supplied by Maciste, who goes to the rescue of a widow and her daughter who are persecuted by a bold, bad duke. He uses his Samson's strength on more occasions than one, and it is almost unnecessary to say that after many trials and much tribulation his charges are delivered out of the hands of the ducal tyrant, who finds his way into gaol while Maciste goes off to find fresh deeds of daring. Some films are calm and placid; some flow smoothly to their appointed end; some rush with the impetuousness of a mountain torrent. This film is one of the latter kind. It leaves the onlooker a little breathless at times, so rapid is the sequence of—event, and it promises to be a film worth seeing.

WEST-END CINEMA.

Lovers of Literature, and ardent votaries of Charles Dickens will indeed hail the announcement that the West-End Cinema is putting up a programme this week, commencing to-day which includes the screen interpretation of one of Dicken's most powerful Novels, "Bleak the Film." presented to their Patrons by Messrs. K. D. and Brothers this week treats of heart-appealing episodes of Lady Dedlock's secret. It is a tense human Dickens Drama, lit up with flushes of Dickens Humour and starring the brilliant actress Constance Collier.

GLOBE CINEMA

Messrs. K. D. and Brothers are commencing to-day at their Globe Cinema a serial of extraordinary vigour. "The Screaming Shadow" is a serial story (40,000 feet in length) that can safely be predicted to have a successful run, especially, as it stars the popular pair of screen celebrities—Ben Wilson and Never Gerber. The plot of the story is full of original and unexpected turns and the super-natural is treated therein in quite thrilling and intelligent manner. Surrounding Mr. Wilson and Miss Gerber there is a cost of eminent screen celebrities.

REPARATIONS AGAINST GERMANY AND HER ALLIES.

PROCEDURE FOR CLAIMS.

The following Press Communiqué is issued:—

In a Press Communiqué dated the 20th May 1920, the Government of India announced the procedure to be followed by persons having claims for reparation against Germany and her allies in the late war, and it was intimated that such claims should be submitted to Local Governments and Administrations not later than the 30th June. It has now been brought to the notice of the Government of India that there is a considerable number of persons who, from ignorance either of the procedure to be adopted or of the circumstances in which reparation can be claimed, have not yet submitted their claims. For the benefit, therefore, of such persons the classes of damage for which reparation can be claimed, and the decisions of the London Reparation Committee in connection with such claims are indicated below:—

A.—Reparation may be claimed in respect of damages falling under the following categories:—

(1) Damage to injured persons and to surviving dependents by personal injury to or death of civilians caused by acts of war, including bombardments or other attacks on land, on sea, or from the air, and all the direct consequences thereof, and of all operations of war by the two groups of belligerents wherever arising. (2) Damage caused by Germany or her allies to civilian victims of acts of cruelty, violence or maltreatment (including injuries to life or health as a consequence of imprisonment, deportation, internment or evacuation), of exposure at sea or of being forced to labour, wherever arising, and to the surviving dependents of such victims. (3) Damage caused by Germany or her allies in their own territory or in occupied or invaded territory to civilian victims of all acts injurious to health or capacity to work, or to honour, as well as to the surviving dependents of such victims. (4) Damage caused to civilians by being forced by Germany or her allies to labour without just remuneration. (5) Damage in respect of all property wherever situated belonging to any of the Allied or Associated States or their nationals; with the exception of naval and military works or materials, which has been carried off, seized, injured or destroyed by the acts of Germany or her allies on land, on sea, or from the air, or damage directly in consequence of hostilities or of any operations of war. (6) Damage in the form of levies, fines and other similar exactions imposed by Germany or her allies upon the civilian population.

(1) The damage in respect of which reparation is claimed must be assessed on a reasonable basis at whatever sum a jury would be likely to award in a civil action. It would not, for instance, include loss of wages unless incident to personal injury or imprisonment. Reasonable compensation for pain and suffering may be claimed. Claims should be checked and verified as far as possible by the local Custodians of Enemy Property or other officers appointed for this purpose. Statutory declarations, and particulars and proof by certificate or otherwise of personal injuries will be required in support of claims. The Government of India is held responsible for rejecting untruthful or unreasonable claims. (2) Claims on Germany are not negatived because the damage done has been covered by insurance. (3) Property in respect of which compensation for damage may be claimed means physical property, and does not include industrial property such as a copyright or a patent or rights under a contract such as a mortgage (4) Claims may be preferred through the Government of India both by foreigners who are members of the crew or passengers on British ships or by British nationals on foreign ships (sunk or injured by the enemy.) (5) Interest from the date of the damage should not be included in claims presented to the Reparation Commission. (6) The amount of claims should be stated in rupees, at the value current at the time when the claim arose. The conversion of these claims into the exchange value current at the date of the presentment of the claim to Germany will be calculated in the United Kingdom. (7) A claim can only be made in respect of illness if directly due to operations of war. (8) Persons domiciled in a British Dominion should prefer their claims to the Government of the Dominion to which they belong.

As all claims have to be forwarded through Local Governments and Administrations, have to be scrutinised by the Government of India and then forwarded to the India Office to be prepared for presentation to the Reparation Commission before 21st May, 1921, any further claims that are still to be made should be submitted as soon as possible, particular attention being paid to compliance with the erquirements as to statutory declarations and proof detailed in paragraph B (1) above. It will probably not be possible to prepare for presentation claims received by the Government of India after 15th December, 1920.

TROUBLE IN WILSON COLLEGE

THREATENED STRIKE OVER BIBLE TEACHING.

The Wilson College opened to-day and with the opening of the College there was a recrudescence of the trouble over the question of Bible teaching. The attendance was very poor as only a handful of students were present in the classes. The majority of the students are very much aggrieved over the severe action taken against their representatives the scene in the corridors of the College was an animated one as crowds of gesticulating and excited students paced the corridors boycotting the classes. The students are very much determined in their attitude and careful handling of the situation is necessary to avert untoward results.

The students have published two notices in bulletin form. The first is an appeal to the students to abstain from attendance at College till Monday when a meeting of the Wilson College students will be held at the Marwadi Vidyalaya Hall to consider the situation. The second invites the attention of the students to the Notice put up by the Principal making Bible-study obligatory on the part of all Wilson College students. The severity of the punishment meted out to the representatives of the students has naturally exasperated the students, but we hope that both sides will prove reasonable and avoid a catastrophe.

MMSLIM PROTEST.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, Nov. 11.

Mohomed Valiullah Badsha, Hajee Abdur Ruhim and Abdul Ahmed Khan have addressed a letter to the President, Mohamedan Educational Association, entering their emphatic protest against the way in which the entertainment to the Hon. Mr. Shafi had been thrust upon the members of the Association, without their consent and entirely dissociating themselves from it. They say the invitations had been issued in the name of the President and members of the Association without consulting the members about it. In pursuance of the resolutions of the All-India Moslem League and Khilafat Conference, Muslim public opinion is, they say, strongly against such public functions.

BOMBAY LABOUR DISCONTENT.

AUTHORITIES' PAINFUL INDIFFERENCE.

APPEAL TO STAND FIRM BY STRIKERS.

Bombay is now awfully strike-wearied, but there are signs as yet that the great four strikes will see amicable settlements at an early date. With the lapse of yesterday, the Postal and Telegraph strike registered the 54th day of the deadlock, the Gas strike its 43rd day and the Tramway strike its 37th day.

After sorely trying the amazing patience—which puts even the proverbial patience of Job to shame—of lakhs of people of the city, and of crores of people in the Presidency the Postal authorities and the profiteering companies do not seem to be realizing even now that everything must have a limit and that whenever, one goes beyond the limits, he is sure to encounter grave risks very often. These wiseacres, who are daily growing more and more callous, encouraged no doubt by the thought of the helplessness of the silently suffering public, need however a gentle reminder that, in the words of Macaulay, "a convulsive burst of popular rage and despair wants tyrants not to presume too far on the patience of mankind", and though the proverbially patient Indian has not yet shown that burst of rage and despair, the latter cannot but come, sooner or later, unless the authorities change their present supineness and meet the workers, in their just demands, at least half way. The Postal and Telegraph deadlocks counted, as said above, its fifty-fourth day yesterday and to what extent, the public have suffered during all these days, can better be imagined than described. Their mad worship at the cursed shrine of "prestige", which is the cause of endless misery in a bureaucracy ridden land all over the world, seems to have blinded them the inevitable consequences which must follow as the night follows the day. Mr. Baptista's pathetic appeal to the public for help and sympathy towards the strikers has greatly impressed the public who are preparing to give vent to their inmost feelings by preparing to make a demonstration.

In addition to the illiterate young Punjabis who roam about the streets with bundles of telegrams in their hands, a number of similar rustics have now appeared in the city who are found everywhere, except a few favoured localities where highly-paid clerks "do the job", knocking about with letters and packages for delivery.

TRAMWAY DEADLOCK.

The situation of the Tramway strike also was no better yesterday than before. The Company is still going on enacting an anna at every transfer-station from each passenger and the service is discontinued after dusk. Those public-spirited men who have refused to pay more than one anna, have not been prosecuted so far. It is apparent the Company knowing fully well either the "flaws of the law", or its own weakness, is shrewd enough not to go to the Court and the public thus is deprived of a judicial pronouncement on the subject. The Company goes on thus with its game of fleecing—for unless the Company establishes its claim in Court it is nothing short of fleecing—the public. Will not some lawyer take up the question right earnestly, and, fully enquiring into the terms of the agreement between the Corporation and the Company, make a test case in the High Court, in order once for all to set all doubts at rest? Will not Mr. Kamdar do this? If he had not taken up the question of half-fare tickets we are sure the Company would not have still found out its "mistake."

POSTAL NOTICE.

Street letter boxes in the Delivery Area of Byculla, Jacob Circle, and Parel Post Offices were from the commencement of the postmen's strike cleared once a day.

The public are informed that all these street letter boxes are now cleared twice a day, at 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

THE FOREST AND THE TREES.

The question of Non-cooperation or Cooperation is being so hotly discussed between the parties, that it has come to be considered as an end and object in itself. The Government and its adherent Moderates, it seems to us, are solely bent on causing the failure of the Non-Cooperation movement. Those Non-cooperationists (in principle) who are not prepared to go so far as Mr. Gandhi, are in danger of forgetting their general agreement with his policy, through insisting too much on a particular and really trifling difference. They cannot see the forest for the trees. We are all in danger of forgetting that Non-cooperation is not at present an end and object in itself: it is a policy adopted to secure certain definite ends, and when those ends are gained, there will be no longer any Non-cooperation movement, or rather the Non-cooperation movement will be the established order of the country, invested with the sobering mantle of responsibility and everybody, the English included, will cooperate with it. When will the rulers realise the truth: that there is never any danger in conceding an extreme demand in Eastern lands; though there is always danger in a policy of small concessions yielded grudgingly. The former takes away the people's grievance, while the latter aggravates it. Now what are the demands of Mr. Gandhi, the brothers Shaukat Ali and Mohamed Ali, Lala Lajpat Rai, Pandit Motilal Nehru, Mr. Patel and a host of other Indians of unquestionable sincerity? Are they such as England would be wrong to grant? Is there anything foolish or unjust in them, anything which England could not grant with honour? Let us see.

There is the question of the Turkish Treaty. Mr. Gandhi insists in the name of India upon England keeping her solemn pledge to Indian Musalmans. This has been broken, wholly, as we believe, against the wishes of the Government of India. The Non-cooperationists insist that Thrace and Smyrna and its hinterland must be restored to the Sultan's sovereignty in accordance with Mr. Lloyd George's pledge. They also insist that the Arab provinces which have been severed from the Turkish Empire, shall be given self-determination, again in accordance with England's solemn pledges given to the Musalmans of India and to the populations concerned. Is that too much to ask: that England should fulfil her promises? If it is, then Mr. Gandhi and his followers may be regarded as defenders of the honour of England against Englishmen. A most strange conjuncture! Then there is the question of the Punjab atrocities which seems to us not unconnected with the Turkish Treaty: for fear of the unrest which would result from the terms of that treaty was among the causes for the passing of the Rowlatt Acts. After the massacre of Jallianwalla Bagh and other incidents the Indian nation had a right to expect the condign punishment of Englishmen whose conduct did so much dishonour to the name of England. They were thinking, not without affection, of the England of a bygone day. The England of to-day dismissed with trifling censure a case for which the Government of Turkey—of repute for "massacres"—would certainly have hanged a dozen men. Have the Indians then no right to feel aggrieved? And then there is the demand for complete self-government for India—the same self-government which has been given freely to peoples like the Armenians and the Czecho-Slovaks and the Jugo-Slavs (portentous names of Dr. Seton-Watson's invention) who have not had the manifest advantage of being under British rule for more than a century. You cannot proclaim loudly your intention to enforce altruism upon others, without being prepared to practise it yourself.

None of these demands which Anglo-Indians view with so much horror are in reality terrific, wicked or absurd. There is no danger whatsoever in conceding them. The danger is in refusing to concede them, or postponing their concession to some future undefined occasion, when the nation as a whole supports them eagerly. It is the grudging, disapproving attitude of Government which sets a barrier between the Indians and the English here in India, which a generous and trusting attitude would level in the twinkling of an eye. And when that generous and trusting attitude is once adopted, as we hope it will be soon, Non-cooperation will be seen by the English no less than by the people of India to be the only real way of Indian progress. Imposed efficiency may be of use for training Eastern peoples to a certain point, although we doubt it; but when that point is reached they have to manage for themselves, or discontent and trouble will ensue. The same sickness has been seen in other Eastern countries, and the only cure for it is liberty.

THE WAY OUT

The other day we took occasion to point out that the public which enjoys the benefit—i.e., buys cheap products which are the result—of sweated labour, has a moral responsibility in all disputes which arise between employers and employed owing to the bad condition of existence of the latter, and that now, when the whole world is seething with Labour unrest, the public cannot possibly remain aloof. In some European countries where high wages prevail, there may be some doubt in the mind of the man in the street as to the justice of some fresh demand of Labour in regard to the community; but here in India, where the condition and pay of the worker can only be described as pitiful, no such doubt is possible. Recognition of the essential humanity of the workers, of the greatness of their service to Society (which in fact exists by their connivance) and of their right to some share of the comforts which their work produces, is becoming pretty general at the present day even among those whose standpoint is opposed to Labour. But capitalism like bureaucracy is a self-satisfied and therefore selfish institution, for ever victimising people half unconsciously, without so much as "By your leave," much less, "I thank you." Romanoffs or Hohenzollerns were no greater tyrants in their day than our own Railway Emperors and Cotton Kings. This Imperial indifference upon the part of Capital to anything except the output of the workers who support it, with the growing consciousness in the workers of collective power to better their existence, has produced the present era of continual conflict between Capital and Labour, which threatens the existing order of Society in many lands.

At crises in that conflict, when Capital and Labour face each other with teeth clenched, and neither is prepared to yield a fraction of an inch, neither Capital nor Labour cares to think about the public, which is always the chief sufferer on those occasions. In a perfectly conceivable contingency the public might be starved to death, or poisoned by the stoppage of the whole machinery of sanitation. And the public has to some extent invited Capital and Labour to ignore its status as a party to their quarrel by its crass indifference to the rights and wrongs of the dispute at ordinary times. The inconvenience to the public of Bombay arising from the present strikes is not disastrous but it is appreciable, at least sufficient to make everybody wish the strikes to end. Mr. Baptista in the address which he presented to the Governor on behalf of the Trades Union Congress Deputation, asked his Excellency to act as arbitrator in the strikers' case, promising complete submission to his judgment. Sir George Lloyd could not see his way to do so, having regard to his position, except in an extreme emergency. Still a way out of the present deadlock must be found, and we are surprised that the men's leaders, having once accepted the idea of arbitration, should have given up so promising a notion after only one attempt to realise it. Who is best qualified to settle the dispute, recognising the just claims of Labour and the need for some slight sacrifice upon the part of shareholders, through their accredited agents, who keep them sleepy and contented with fat dividends? Not the bureaucracy, which is linked up with capitalism, although capitalism may depict it as a thing apart; but the public, or the great mass of the people, through appointed representatives in conference with representatives of Labour and of Capital. The safest and most democratic way of achieving this object would be by means of the Referendum. In Switzerland, the most pacific country in the world, the Referendum is a part of the constitution. The principle of the Referendum unfortunately does not find favour with party Governments, and hence has never been included in the English constitution; but Labour all over the world makes use of it.

The workers as a whole, in India as elsewhere, ought to be given some kind of a control on industry; for nothing is more calculated to increase their sense of responsibility and improve their service. This of course implies a moral awakening on the part of Capital, which at present merely resents improvement in the lot of Labour as an encroachment on the "rights" in which it sits entrenched to the exclusion of all interest in the labouring class. Considering the large number of strikes and lock-outs which have occurred during the last two years in India, and the seriousness of the dispute in many cases, we would urge on the authorities concerned the need of finding a solution of a strictly popular and independent kind. The latest instance of a happy settlement was the case of the G. I. P. Railway employees, when Sir Narayan Chandavarkar and Sir Thomas Strangman were the arbitrators; and its lesson ought not to be lost on other workers. Arbitrators elected by the public, the impartial sufferer by all disputes, would be obviously better than official arbitrators, or anyone appointed by officialdom. Mr. Baptista might, we think, have tried this way, before invoking further ills on the unlucky public.

"AN EXPLANATION."

The mistake by which a full report of a meeting at Shantaram's Chawl was cut down to a few-lines in our sub-editorial department, referred to in our explanation of yesterday, was in no sense the fault of our reporter. We said that it was the work of "an inexperienced hand"—a description we should never have applied to him.

Notes of the Day.

A Divali greeting.

The following has been sent to us by a correspondent at Sachin:—

To all my countrymen.
Brothers, I did not think to shed a tear in all my miseries:
But you have forced me, by your disunion, to play the woman.
Let us unite: and thus be brothers!
The goal of India is "Swaraj"
Let all lovers of freedom, whose hearts overflow with desire to achieve that goal,
Unite in one common cause—in non-cooperation. Be just and fear not.
Let the ends we aim at be our Country's, our God's and Truth's.
Prize no more mere worldly honours,
Fling away ambition and all prejudice,
Work quietly.—

Herewith I tender my heartest congratulations to all my countrymen on the happy morn of the Hindu New Year and pray the Almighty God to favour the patriots of India with double strength to attain their goal in the coming year.

"KUSUMKAR."

Why India is 'unready, untrained, unequipped.'

"The Englishman" in the course of a leader which looks rather inspired, on the alleged injustice done to Bengal in the arrangement of Provincial finance by the Government of India, the inadequacy of which is deplored by practically every provincial Government in India, loses its balance and, as has been its wont, calls the Reforms (with which, let it be understood, we are not particularly enchanted) Mr. Montagu's "Crackbrained scheme". Incidentally it has a fling at India's readiness for immediate self government, while accusing Mr. Montagu of plunging "an unready, untrained, unequipped India in the maelstrom of a political Niagara." Admitting for argument's sake that India is so, may we ask the Hare Street oracle, by whose grace India, after over 160 years of British rule, has been left in this helpless condition. Is it not notorious that the alien bureaucracy has most ignominiously failed in bringing up this ancient civilized race of people to the level of modern democratic institutions even after such a long term of governance? That failure conclusively proves that even with the best intention and the most disinterested efforts, the government of one nation by another cannot be good either for the governed or for the governors. The atmosphere of subjection is poisonous, crushing all that is virile and worthy and fostering all that is vile and ignoble. If under the iron heel of Prussia or Russia, India had remained after 160 years' rule "unready, untrained and unequipped", the Britons would have been the first to cry out—"intolerable iniquity," "insufferable crime against liberty," and so on and so forth. Hence the fulmination regarding India's alleged unfitness for Self-Government recoils on the head of those who made "The Englishman" of to-day

What an Eminent American Thinks.

It is interesting to find that an eminent American publicist, Mr. William Jennings Bryan, the former Secretary of State to the United States, in his pamphlet, "British Rule in India" evinces true sympathy for the Indians, whom he calls "walking shadows". The following quotation from his pamphlet shows how correctly he has struck the keynote of the whole situation. As a democrat and an ardent lover of freedom he deplores alien over-rule of helpless people and thinks that whatever material benefits have been conferred by British rule in India, have cost the Indians too dearly. He says:—

"Let no one cite India as an argument in defence of colonialism. On the Ganges and the Indus the Briton, in spite of his many noble qualities and his large contributions to the world's advancement, has demonstrated, as many have before, man's inability to exercise with wisdom and justice, irresponsible power over helpless people. He has conferred some benefits upon India, but he has extorted a tremendous price for them."

Trouble in Japan's "Ireland."

A British subject, one George L. Shaw, is arrested in Korea on a charge of having aided the Korean Nationalists in their movement for the overthrow of the established Japanese Government in the Peninsula. He was reported to have thrown open his premises for the storage of bombs etc., etc. This has naturally created some sensation in British circles in China and Japan. At a meeting of the British Chamber of Commerce violent speeches were delivered denouncing Japan. A resolution of protest against the arrest was passed and sent to the British Consul General. Whatever may be the merits of the case, which is still sub judice, the "Asian Review"—an English monthly managed and edited by Japanese,—which is a semi-official organ, simply pooh-poohs the idea of threat to Japan and says that if the Britishers "are under the impression that they can cow Japan by their threats and agitations and compel her to release Shaw, in spite of the evidence of his guilty, they are egregiously mistaken. Unlike China and other Asiatic countries, under the thraldom of the whites, Japan has only one law, which is applicable to all, irrespective of colour. He who breaks it, be he white or coloured, must suffer the consequence." It also cites the instance of unlawful arrest and deportation of Professor Kanokogi of the Keio University who had come to India two years ago for Buddhistic researches. During his stay in Calcutta his house was searched at midnight and he was packed off bag and baggage by the next available steamer to Hongkong in charge of two white constables. Professor Kanokogi was not given an opportunity to defend himself or to make any explanation. The treatment accorded to the Professor was extremely rough. "Where was then," pertinently asks the "Asian Review", "the sense of justice of our British friends?"—Echo answers—Where?

Mrs. Besant's Way.

The following observation of "The Indian Social Reformer", in the course of its comments on the display of rowdyism at Mrs. Besant's lecture at the Excelsior Theatre, will be read with interest. It shows what an alarmist view Mrs. Besant and her followers took—erroneously—of the whole incident:

The Non-Co-operationists' exhibition on Thursday proves that they are in desperate straits and that their present game is to overawe the public by rowdy demonstrations. We are, in fairness, bound to add that some of Mrs. Besant's observations, though they had ample excuse in the grave provocation offered by the Non-Co-operationists, were themselves not wholly calculated to soften asperities. And we ought to say that her signs at Thursday's meeting to the ladies in the audience to get away, were absolutely unnecessary as there was not the least probability of any one of them being slighted. We have no words too strong to condemn the rowdyism of the interrupters. But we are positive that none of them would have interfered in the slightest degree with any lady in the audience, and any one who dared to do so, would have received a severe lesson at the hands of his own friends. Some of the women who were forced to leave by Mrs. Besant's signs, themselves resented them. When the meeting broke up, ladies connected with known opponents of Non-Co-operation were moving in the thick of the crowd which everywhere courteously made way for them. We have got to fight Non-Co-operation tooth and nail as an anti-social menace. But many of the young men who have been carried away by it are not born rowdies devoid of the instincts of gentlemen, and we are confident that they may be trusted not to insult women.

Irish-American Propaganda.

The pro-Irish propaganda is being wonderfully conducted in America. Recently placards were put up at the entrance of a park, where thousands of people enter and leave daily, and cars pass every few minutes, condemning the crimes committed by the British in Ireland. The following few samples of the inscriptions are selected from a Philadelphia journal. We give them as an example of Transatlantic political propaganda:

"The cowardly lying whelp Lloyd George says the Irish question is a domestic question. The wife-beater says the same thing!".

"Freedom for Ireland or another world war. If we can't get freedom, we want war."

"Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau decided on liberty for most all small nations, but slavery for Ireland."

* * * *

"Irishmen, barefooted, hungry and bleeding, wrote liberty with their blood in the snow-clad plains of Valley Forge, where no winter winds or summer sun, no naval or British militarism can obliterate it."

"England's greatest naval victory since Jutland: Preventing Archbishop Mannix from visiting his aged mother."

LONDON, Nov. 10.

Imposing scenes took place to-day on the occasion of the embarkation of the body of the Unknown British Warrior for Dover. The British destroyer, Verdun was escorted by a flotilla of French destroyers. The highest naval and military honours were paid as the offin, which was coverd by Union Jack under which a sword sent by the King was placed, was carried to the harbour on an Army Service Corps waggon drawn by the French military horses and driven by a French artilleryman through crowded streets lined by troops. The bands played Chopin's Funeral March. The coffin was carried on board by an escort of British soldiers representing all parts of the Empire, while the boatswain's mate piped honours generally only accorded to admirals. The coffin was surrounded by wreaths and placed on the quarter deck guarded by four soldiers with arms reversed.

There was a dramatic incident after the general salute when Marshal Foch advanced almost alone to the edge of the water and saluted his dead comrade. The guns of the French flotilla boomed out at Field-Marshal's salute as the Verdun disappeared in the mist.

FORWARD POLICY IN MIDDLE EAST.

LORD SYDENHAM DISAGREES WITH AGA KHAN.

PLEA FOR EMPLOYMENT OF INDIAN TROOPS ABROAD.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.
Recd. 12-30 pm., Nov. 12.

Writing in "The Times" Lord Sydenham expresses surprise at the recnt article by the Aga Khan saying he has not forgotten the "Study in Political Evolution," published two years ago in which the Aga Khan advocated a forward policy in the Middle East. All might agree that the Aga Khan's suggestion to abandon Mesopotamia and Persia might be tenable if we could discard the responsibilities necessitated by the war and if we saw any hope of national organisation in Persia. Lord Sydenham condemns sudden withdrawal involving massacre of our friends and anarchy or Turkish reoccupation of Mesopotamia, where he alludes to productive possibilities under an orderly regime, while the Aga Khan's plan as regards oil must fail, unless safe communications are guaranteed.

Although regreting that the Esher Report suggested continuous service for the Indian Army overseas, Lord Sydenham points out that evidence from soldiers in India and Palestine testifies that the fighting classes favour conditional overseas service. Lord Sydenham declares that we desire to give the fullest self-government compatible with the discharge of our responsibilities. He regrets that the extent and gravity of these and the fact that our national honour is involved were not realised in the Aga Khan's article.

He paid a tribute to the great gallantry of the levies who defended Shahroban and quoted the report of Sir Arnold Wilson in September stating that he had received a most satisfactory report of the behaviour of the levies, wherever they were employed under their own or British officers. The recent disturbances would necessitate a revision of the estimate of eighteen lakhs in the civil budget in respect of the levies.

Replying to Commander Kenworthy, Mr. Montagu said the Government's policy was to maintain order in Mesopotamia by means of levies.

Replying to Lord Winterton, Mr. Montagu gave assurance that the question of giving reparation to the widows and dependents of the killed or the disabled levies would be considered sympathetically.

A Mesopotamian communiqué states that in the Lower Euphrates region a column from Samawah carrying out punitive operations on both the banks of the Euphrates around Khidr met with stubborn resistance on November 6th from an insurgent band, concealed in the broken country on the left bank of the river. Our infantry assisted by aeroplanes forced the Arabs from their positions. We lost two killed and twenty wounded. The operations are continuing.

In the Diyala area nineteen Ford Vans from Teheran were moving from Shahraban without the cognisance of the authorities when they were attacked in the pass of Jebelhamrin. Three cars got back to Shahraban. A column was sent out immediately and found five cars deserted in the pass. The remaining eleven reached Kizilrobat safely. It is believed that the hill-men captured Rs. 20,000.

COL. AND MRS. WEDGWOOD AT AMRITSAR.

(From Our Correspondent.)

AMRITSAR, Nov. 11.

Colonel and Mrs. Wedgwood, accompanied by Lala Harkishenlal, Dr. Kitchlew, Molvi Ghulam Mohayuddin and Lala Girdharilal, paid a flying visit to Amritsar yesterday to Dewali celebrations. After passing through the horse fair grounds, they were shown the Carpet Factory of Dayee Sahai Chambamal, at which place they met and talked to Dr. Satyapal and Mrs. Tahlram Gangaram. From here, they went to the Golden Temple. Dewali fair this year, was the largest witnessed since a long time. On previous occasions the Municipality provided for chair accommodation for the gentry of the town on the Clock Tower platform and best seats in the front were generally reserved for Europeans. This year, the Nationalist Sikh party objected to this preferential treatment, all chairs were removed. Europeans were conspicuous by their absence.

Colonel and Mrs. Wedgwood were given a hearty reception by the Home Rule League Volunteers, headed by Srijut Laxman, amidst shouts of "Satsriakal and Bande Mataram." Both of them unhesitatingly sat on bare ground like other Indians and this squatting action on their part touched the hearts of all and at times shouts of "Colonel Wedgwood-ki-Jai" were raised, and he was requested to stand up often as people insisted on seeing him. Colonel mixed and talked with the people freely. There were about one lakh people, seeing illuminations and fireworks in the temple, the whole area of which and balconies and roofs of neighbouring houses were literally packed with visitors, most of whom were sitting patiently for over six hours. The party was entertained at dinner by Lala Girdharilal and left for Lahore, late at night. The Colonel was much struck the unique sight and expressed he had never seen before such huge crowds sitting so peacefully.

Colonel and Mrs. Wedgwood will visit Amritsar again on the 19th instant and will stay for two days.

STRIKE IN CHITTAGONG HIGH SCHOOL.

SUPERINTENDENT'S HIGH-HANDED ACTION.

CHITTAGONG, Nov. 11.

The Moslem High School boys struck from Monday last. Only 15 or 20 boys out of 216 who are sons of Government servants are attending. The students have declared in a Town Hall meeting that they have done so as it is the dictate of their Shariat. The boys of other institutions including the College will also strike very soon.

The Inspector of Schools ordered that if the boys join within seven days from date he will not take any step against the strikers and that they will be allowed to remain in the hostel as usual. Now suddenly Mr. Abdur Razzaque, the Superintendent ordered the menials not to allow the boys to enter the dining room. So the boys had to take their food elsewhere and some remained without any food. Further all their belongings have been kept under lock and key.

BOMBAY COTTON BROKERS.

RE-CONFIRMATION OF RESOLUTIONS.

An urgent general meeting of the members of the Bombay Cotton Brokers' Association was held on Friday at the hall of the Association and under the presidency of Mr. Shivanarayen Nemani, for the purpose of confirming for a second time the two resolutions that had been passed at another urgent general meeting of the Association, held on the 5th of October, last.

The resolutions read as under:—

(1) That this meeting records its dissatisfaction and keen sense of disappointment at the result of the deputation's meeting with the Secretary to the Government.

(2) This meeting resolves that business in the New Crop Contracts (1920-21) shall be commenced only when it shall be so resolved by the General Trade Meeting; that this Association should strictly abide by the decision of the General Trade Meeting in so far as the business in the new crop contracts is concerned, and further resolves that, in the due course of time, this Association may convene, a General Trade Meeting to submit this resolution for their consideration and that this meeting is strongly opposed to any further business being done under control of the Cotton Contracts Board.

At the outset Mr. Begraj Gupta, one of the Honorary Secretaries of the Association, explained to the meeting what had taken place at the Conference of a Committee of the Cotton Contracts Board and the deputation of the Cotton Brokers' Association and other Associations.

He then said the object of the conference was to consider the question of forming a new Association. But, regarding the constitution of the new Association a difference arose as to the method in which different bodies should be grouped for the purpose of electing members of the new board. The Committee of the Cotton Contracts Board suggested five groups as follows:—(1) Exporters; (2) Mill-owners or Agents; (3) Mukadams and Commission Agents; (4) Brokers and (5) Importers. But the Cotton Brokers' deputations had asked for six groups, namely:—(1) Exporters, (2) Mill-owners or Mill-Agents, (3) Mukadems, (4) Brokers, (5) Importers and (6) Commission Agents. As the matter stood, they had only two alternatives before them viz., either to seperate from the Cotton Contracts Board or to join it. The speaker's own view was that they should adopt the principle of passive resistance towards the Cotton Contracts Board until things were mended according to their suggestions.

Concluding Mr. Gupta said he had recently received a letter from one of the European members of their Association who urged that something should be done now to re-open the business and further stating that he (the European broker) had hitherto abided by the decision of the Association but that made him, like many other members, to lose heavily by stopping the trade.

A member then stood up and asked to know what was the hitch that presented their doing business.

"GIVE AND LAKE."

Mr. G. E. D. Langly said he did not know that there was any hitch, but what he knew was that a discussion had been going on regarding the new scheme and they had to wait until the whole thing was settled. It was obvious that no one section of the trade could get everything, it wanted. Now what was necessary was that they should act upon the principle of give and take. In his and idea, the trade was more or less united and it was no good hindering the whole profession by stopping business. There must be compromise and he was sure after hearing everybody interested in the trade the Board would arrive at some arrangement, acceptable by all.

Mr. C. H Roberts said it was hardly fair to say that a unanimous decision had been arrived at. They must remember that the representatives of different Associations had told the Board clearly that they had no authority to speak on behalf of their Association or to bind their Association to accept any decision that could be arrived at in that conference. He was sure if the position was handled in a reasonable and conciliatory spirit they would come to a settlement which would be generally accepted. The European brokers were always loyal to the Cotton Brokers' Association and had hitherto and abided by its decision. But they were being put to great loss owing to the Association's resolutions suspending business.

After some further discussion, the resolutions were put to vote for re-confirmation The whole house, except five members—three Europeans and two Indians voted in favour of re-confirmation.

"I read from the papers that the Rangoon Rice Merchants have also advised Government to put an end to the Control System and allow the merchants free exports of rice to at least Indian ports. Most of the Bombay rice merchants hold the same opinion. I hope that the Government will pay attention to the request of the Merchants and allow them to do their business freely. The end of the Control in India will not help to increase the prices but it will help to decrease the rates under the present circumstances.

BUCKINGHAM MILLS CASE.

The application for injuction was supported by an affidavit sworn to by Mr. A. P. Symond. His Lordship after hearing the council directed an interim injuntion to issue returnable on the 15th instant restraining the defendants from conspiring to cause injury to the plaintiffs' workmen not to work for them or by preventing other workmen entering plaintiff service.

MILNER MISSION REFORMS.

POLICY OF NEW GOVT.

(Associated Press.)

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 12.

The "Pioneer's" Cairo correspondent says: The mandate of the mixed courts comes to an end on the 31st instant and the negotiations are in progress for its renewal. One of the reforms which the Milner Mission proposes to introduce into Egypt is the abolition of the consular courts and the extension of the jurisdiction of the mixed courts so as to include criminal, civil and commercial jurisdiction enjoyed hitherto by consular courts. This reform is embodied in the Draft Treaty which the Milner recently submitted to Zaghlul Pasha and his colleagues with the Cabinet out here. Opposition to the agreement is being steadily organised but will not have much effect.

There are however, indications that those who hastened to hail "Beau Geste" of Great Britain with enthusiasm are now repenting at their leisure. A factor which indeed appears to be worrying people, Fellahoen Government officials, and the landed proprietors, is that the new regime connotes disappearance of the British control. Now Government will have to adopt some agrarian policy for its own protection.

DELHI MEDICAL AND SURGICAL EXHIBITION.

USEFULLNESS OF SUB-ASST SURGEONS.

DELHI, Nov. 12.

A general meeting of the Sub-Assistant Surgeons in connection with the Medical and Surgical Exhibition which is to be opened in Delhi by his Excellency the Viceroy on the 17th December was held in the Town Hall last evening, the Hon. Mr. C. A. Barron, the Chief Commissioner presiding.

Rai Sahib Hari Ram gave an interesting account of the Sub-Assistant Surgeons and detailed the requirements for the proposed exhibition. Lieut.-Col. C. H. James, C.I.E. I.M.S., then delivered an eloquent speech in which he expressed his views on the usefulness of the Sub-Assistant Surgeons in India where their number exceeded ten thousand. Hence he was of opinion that this class of medical practitioners afforded the greatest medical relief in the remotest corners more or less inaccessable to the other classes of medical men even Vedic and Unani.

The President was requested by Mr. Abul Hasan Munsif to accord the Association his patronage to which he kindly consented.

The meeting terminated with a hearty vote of thanks to the chair.

FORCED LABOUR IN SIMLA HILLS.

SUCCESSFUL MISSION OF MR. C. F. ANDREWS.

(Associated Press.)

Simla, June 11.

Mr C. F. Andrews has returned from Kotgarh, Simla Hills, where in company with Mr. Stockes he has been investigating in to the conditions of forced labour in the Hill States and in British Territory. Mr. Lengley, Deputy Commissioner of Simla, was at Kotgarh on November 5th and 6th. It has now been practically decided on his authority to close down forced labour altogether with regard to the carrying of postal mail bags. This forced labour was a most pressing question for the winter, because the snows would shortly be covering the hills and in the past year the villagers had suffered very great hardship when compelled to carry the mails through the snow. More than once cases have been known of villagers actually perishing in the snow while carrying the mails under conditions of forced labour. The pleasure-seekers from Simla will be obliged next season to make their own arrangements and they will not be allowed to force the hill villagers any longer to carry their luggage. The most serious question of all, namely, the forced labour for the Forest and Public Work Departments will, it is hoped, be soon settled also.

THE ESHER REPORT CONDEMNED.

Mr. Andrews when asked to give his opinion concerning the Esher Report stated that he regarded it as the most serious menace possible to Indian freedom. India would become still further humiliated in the eyes of the whole civilised world if she allowed her troops to be used outside the country for the suppression of national aspirations in the Middle East. The Egyptians had already expressed in no uncertain terms their indignation at the use of Indian troops to suppress their own national uprising and the Arabs in Mesopotamia were rapidly learning to hate the very name of India. It was necessary that this should come to an end once and for all and that Indian troops should be brought back to defend the Indian Frontier, where at any time they might be sorely needed.

With regard to affairs in South Africa Mr. Andrews stated the news he had received in Simla had been reassuring and he hoped that good might come out of Sir Benjamin Robertson's recent visit.

Correspondence

THE "DAILY HERALD"

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The Government of India has proscribed this paper alongwith "Soviet Russia." They have not assigned any reasons for their action. I do not know the sins of "Justice" or "Soviet Russia." But I do know, that the "Daily Herald" is guilty of telling the truth.

(1) About the Coal and Oil policy in Mespot!

(2) About the terror of French troops in the occupied regions of Germany!

(3) About the real aspects of Russian Revolution!

(4) About the dual policy of the Allies in Russia and in Poland!

(5) About the massacre of unarmed Turkish population in Smyrna by Greek troops!

(6) About the alleged massacre of Armenians by Turkish soldiers!

(7) About the real state of affairs in Ireland, and the need of granting her freedom!

(8) Has been fighting against Capitalism, against Imperialism, against all Militarism.

(9) It has been exposing their fallacies, their vagaries, their gross irregularities.

(10) The "Daily Herald" is a friend of the poor, a champion of Labour, and an arch-enemy of autocracy, bureaucracy and hypocrisy.

(11) Perhaps the greatest sin of the "Daily Herald" is its expressed sympathy with Indian aspirations for a real, genuine democratic Government.

These are the sins for which the "Daily Herald" is evidently proscribed! Is it not the beginning of a New Era? Is this not an indication of a pious policy of shutting out the light of Labour, that dispels all clouds of Capitalism? Does not India need that light? Is it safe in Britain, and unsafe in India? Does the Government apprehend, that the light may blind our vision? Need we assure Government, that the "Daily Herald" does not affect our eye-sight adversely? To shut it off means, that India should view the world, not as it goes on; but as Reuter exhibits under the patronage of the Government of India. Is it not a sad day, when bureaucracy cannot face the light, or will not let the people have the way wiser counsels prevail!—Yours, etc.,

BARJORJI FRAMJI BHARUCHA.

MRS. BESANT'S LECTURES.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The attitude of those, who interrupted, hissed and hooted Mrs. Besant during her lectures at the Excelsior Theatre, was distinctly indefensible, uncharitable and reprehensible. At the same time the criticisms by Mrs. Besant, Sir Chimanlal and Mr. Jamnadas blaming Mr. Gandhi for these sorry spectacles, are decidedly unjustifiable and regrettable. For, Sir, if they hold Gandhiji accountable for the actions of irresponsible persons; they may as well hold the Governor responsible for the misbehaviour of some white men at the Taj Mahal the other day! For, as Gandhiji is the Chief of the masses; the Governor is the Chief of the white races in the Presidency. And whilst Gandhiji has condemned the attitude of the interrupters; the Governor is studiously silent. It is, however, necessary to get at the root of things. I have seen various interrupters of the said meetings and asked them the reason of their intolerant attitude. All that they have to say is, that those, who were once fighting against the bureaucracy tooth and nail are unconsciously supporting its game; and that further, they are condemning the policy of Nationalist leaders, to whom they are devoted and indebted. The interrupters complain bitterly about the criticisms of Lok. Tilak, Gandhiji, Patel, etc., as appearing in "New India"; and they cannot suffer to see its Editor address them uninterruptedly! That is a version of the interrupters, which indicates, that their opposition was not meaningless. At the same time, it shows lack of patience, and tolerance to hear one's opponent; of chivalry for the person of a lady; and of regard for one, who has worked hard for "Home Rule" for India. The lesson for all concerned is:—"Follow Truth and Tolerance."—Yours, etc.,

BARJORJI FRAMJI BHARUCHA.

THE CONGRESS CONSTITUTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE".

Sir,—The question of revising the constitution of the Indian National Congress has prominently come before the public, on account of the sharp division in public opinion on Non-Cooperation. So long as the country is practically unanimous on questions of public importance, nobody cares for the constitution of the assembly which expresses the opinion of the country. As soon as public opinion becomes sharply divided, the necessity is felt that the national assembly should truly represent the country and express its considered opinion. One such occasion arose in 1907-8; another has arisen now.

Indeed very momentous questions have now come before the country. The Congress has already declared in favour of Non-Cooperation and the question of the Congress creed defining the goal of our politics will shortly come up for debate. The authority of the Congress is only moral and not legal. The more the Congress truly represents the nation, the greater will be the moral authority of its decisions. The defects in the present constitution of the Congress from the representative point of view may be briefly noted as follows:—

(a) There is no voting by districts. When the vote of a province is taken, all the delegates from that province are divided into two camps. While some of the districts go unrepresented, some are excessively represented. The result is that the vote of the province does not truly mirror the public opinion of that province

(b) There being no limit on the number of delegates from any district, the true principle of election does not come into operation at all, in nominating the delegates. Nobody has ever found any difficulty in getting a delegation certificate. Anybody can get it, for merely asking for it. The result is that, the delegates are responsible to none, except to themselves. They vote for themselves and not for their constituencies.

(c) The Congress is representative of the classes and not of the masses. Who elects delegates to the Congress? The District Congress Committees and certain other bodies affiliated to or recognised by the Provincial Congress Committees. Now most of these District Committees and Associations are defunct bodies, showing signs of life only at long intervals. And who are the members of these bodies? A few pleaders and their friends. The masses have given no part in electing delegates to the Congress. We who have been demanding a wide franchise for the Legislative Councils, have taken no steps to extend the Congress franchise to the people. And yet it is claimed, that the resolutions of the Congress, passed by mere majorities, should be held binding on the country. The hundreds of thousands of electors, who have got a new franchise for the Legislative Councils, are being asked in the name of the Congress, to forego their rights and to go unrepresented. Have these electors ever sent their delegates to the Congress and have they had any hand or say in Congress work? Had the Congress delegates at the last Calcutta special session, any mandate from these electors?

Matters however must be set at right, if we mean real business. As regards the Congress franchise, an article on the Congress constitution, which appeared in yesterday's issue of your esteemed journal, is very suggestive. The idea of extending the Congress franchise to the electors of the new Legislative Councils is very good, but to work it out in practice, a permanent organization, with a paid staff and large funds, will be necessary in every district. Political work among the masses should cease to be mere recreation of a few holiday politicians and should be done as serious business. It is hoped that the leaders of the Congress will pay serious attention to this aspect of the Congress Constitutional Reform, with a view to make the Congress a truly representative organ of real public opinion in the country. The Indian National Congress cannot afford to be less representative of the people than the Legislative Councils under the New Reform Act.—Yours, etc.,

NON-COOPERATION AND HINDU UNIVERSITY.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to a telegram published in to-day's (Thursday) issue of your paper from your Benares correspondent, according to whom "on the pressing invitation of the Benares Hindu University who had sent their representatives to Ghazipore, Dr. Ansari and Pandit J. Nehru came to Benares on the 7th. This statement is wholly inaccurate. The Benares Hindu University never invited Dr. Ansari or Pandit J. Nehru nor did they ever send any representative to Ghazipore to invite these gentlemen.

As for the formation of the Non-Cooperation Committee it is an open secret that some persons who had been unfriendly to the institution from the very beginning are taking advantage of the present agitation to do what they can to wreck the institution. They have neither the sympathy nor support of the majority of students.—Yours, etc.,

THE D. P. I'S COURTEOUS FAREWELL TO M. A. S.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The long looked for Time Scale of Secondary Teachers which was expected to come out as a soothing balm of consolation has at last made its ill-favoured appearance doing scant justice to the superior claims of M.A.'s, upheld though modestly by Government in one of their G. R.'s. What makes the scale almost unacceptable? It cannot be doubted that it betrays the shortsighted policy of the Department which offends the University itself by refusing to recognise the M.A. degree as substantially superior to that of the B.A. As a rule academical qualifications do form the criterion of general ability in any department. What is however regrettable is that the Educational Department which should be the first to enlist the services of as many intellectuals as possible has made itself least attractive to the new recruits and most disappointing to those in service. As education becomes more and more specialised it is essential that the department should be manned by men of the highest University distinctions to avoid stagnation and render progress certain. If the time scale as now introduced bars the entrance and blights the prospects of men of decidedly superior calibre, is not the department deliberately following a suicidal policy?

It has been the long-standing tradition of the department to attract M.A.'s by holding out to them higher initial salaries and subsequent brighter prospects. Even in the otherwise defective marks system the same tradition was scrupulously respected by allowing three additional marks to an M. A. which meant practically one year's seniority. When dead seniority waps made the only governing principle of promotion after the abolition of that system the Government was moved to ameliorate the condition of M.A.'s in the department in response to which, rightly recognising the urgent necessity of offering special terms to M.A.'s, it asked the D.P.I. to submit definite proposals. The Director however, though called upon to propose a most liberal scheme for them perhaps allowed himself to be prejudiced by the ill-judged and perverted opinions of others and went to the length of sending a reply unchallengable in its criticism, illogical in its conclusions, niggardly in its proposals and libellous in its abuse of M.A.'s! His letter [illegible] appreciate the higher efficiency [illegible] their consequent claims to preferential treatment. While sanely [illegible] ceteris paribus', an M.A. is a better man than a B.A. the Director proceeds to [illegible] conclusion does not necessarily apply to cases where other things are not equal. Starting on the gratuitous assumption that all the B.A.'s in the Department formed a brilliant cadre, and that the M.A.'s [illegible] so valuable asset, since he supposes that the higher degree can be captured by two years of plodding and superficial cram, he has made a star-line statement that an M.A. degree is not necessarily an index of superior capacities (physical or mental!) or of stronger character. Never was it propounded by any Educationist nor divined by any philosopher that an M.A. degree would guarantee any physical improvement or directly affect the moral calibre though it evidently connotes higher mental efficiency. As regards professional skill and genuine interest in the work of education there is no earthly reason why an M.A. should fail to reach maximal efficiency any more than a B.A. could.

On the strength of these spurious arguments he submitted proposals which fell much short of the expectations of those whom they were meant to indemnify. Thus he holds out the magnificent sum of rupees fifteen [illegible] in addition to the initial start of Rs. 60 after the teaching diploma is secured to first class M.As., who, he optimistically expects, will immediately jump at this splendid offer! Heaven knows if ever a time dawns on us when a first class M.A. would be so bankrupt as to seek employment in the Subordinate Service on a pittance of Rs. 75 a month! To second class M.As who form a small minority, viz. (6) he offers an allowance of Rs. 10 p. m. and to ordinary M.As, who stand in genuine need of relief, a start of Rs. 60 is, he thinks, the most liberal and the best of all he can give.

It must not be forgotten, however, that new M.As will have to enter the Department at least two years after graduation and for all their efforts they will, without any rise in pay, be juniors to those who graduated along with them and entered the Department immediately after. Finally, those who passed their M.A. after some years of service in the Department are not at all considered eligible for reaching the maximum of Rs. 150 two years earlier as if there is any vestige of difference between them and those who enter the Department as M.As. May we hope that the Director will in the name of fairness and justice sweep away this invidious distinction now made?

Will the Director kindly note the defects pointed out above and bring about the necessary improvements with a view to remove the discontent among the M.As in the Department? Will the Department try its level best to save this class of teachers from the sickening mortification the new scale has inflicted on them, revise proposals in a manner to suit the tradition of the Department and thus honourably maintain its prestige, and increase its efficiency? How can these objects be gained if the Director of Public Instruction who is himself an M.A. and who purely knows the value of M.As, as he has been an examiner at the University M.A. Examinations, bids a grim farewell to M.As when he was advisedly directed by Government to accord them a warm welcome?—Yours, etc.,

JUSTICE.

PLIGHT OF ARSENAL CLERKS

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE".

Sir,—You have rendered invaluable service to the righteous cause of the Arsenal clerks and the rest of the Indian Establishment, by publishing the correspondence of an "Indian I. O. D." in your issue of the 26th ultimo. "Bis dat qui cito dat", goes the Latin adage, and if any assistance is being rendered by the Ordnance authorities let them hurry up. We are already in the grip of the money-lenders and a timely assistance will alone enable us to extricate ourselves.

Dear Sir, I need not dwell on the merits or demerits of our case, but it is a Gospel truth, that if higher officials have had a need of an increase of pay the case of employees who are ill-paid, deserves very early decision. We are sick of the stereotyped reply from Government that our question is under consideration.

I am afraid of encroaching upon your valuable space, but until the Non-Gazetted Officers start their own periodical to ventilate their grievances, we look upon you as the champion of the poor and deserving to espouse our cause.—Yours, etc.,

CASE FOR OPINION OF HIGH COURT

RULE DISCHARGED.

(Before the Hon. the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Fawcett.)

The petitioners in this case were assessed on the 30th of October, 1919, under the Excess Profits Duty Act in the amount of Rs. 6,48,379-4-0 and received due notice thereof from the Collector of Income Tax. Thereupon the petitioners presented an appeal against the said assessment to the Chief Revenue Authority claiming that they were entitled to be held exempt from assessment. The Chief Revenue Authority confirmed the order of the Income Tax Collector. The petitioners thereupon requested the Chief Revenue Authority to state a case for the opinion of the High Court, but on 11th August the Chief Revenue Authority intimated that such reference was unnecessary. On 20th August the petitioners obtained a rule nisi calling upon the Chief Revenue Authority to show cause why he should not be ordered to refer to the High Court for its decision certain questions, one of which was whether certain cash and investments should be taken into consideration for purposes of Excess Profits Duty or in the alternative why the Chief Revenue Authority should not be ordered to hear and determine according to law the petitioners' application to refer the questions to the High Court.

Mr. F. J. Coltman appeared for the petitioners in support of the Rule.

The Hon. the Advocate-General appeared for the Government.

The facts of the case appeared in full when the matter came on for hearing. Judgment was delivered before the October vacation commenced.

THE JUDGMENT.

Their Lordships in delivering their judgment said that the Excess Profits Duty Act was an Act to impose a duty on excess profits arising out of certain business carried on by the petitioners. Sections 5 and 6 provided for the methods in which the excess profits were to be ascertained for the purposes of assessment. Section 7 gave the Collector power to make allowances for special circumstances. Section 8 provided for an appeal to the Chief Revenue Authority against the decision of the Collector. The decision of the Chief Revenue Authority was final. Section 15 provided that certain sections of the Indian Income Tax Act, including Sections 49 to 52, shall apply as if they referred to excess profits duty instead of to income tax. Section 51 of the Indian Income Tax provided that if in the course of any assessment under the Act a question arose with reference to the interpretation of any provision of the Act or of any rule thereunder the Chief Revenue Authority should refer any such question on the application of the assessee with its own opinion thereon to the High Court unless it was satisfied that the application was frivolous or that a reference was unnecessary.

The wording of the section was not very satisfactory. On a strict construction the Chief Revenue Authority could always avoid referring a question on the application of the assessee by saying it was satisfied that the reference was unnecessary. And then it would be difficult for the Court to hold that it was incumbent under the Act on the Chief Revenue Authority to refer the question. Their Lordships were of opinion, however, that it would be open to the Court to consider the grounds on which the Chief Revenue Authority was satisfied that a reference was unnecessary. In order, therefore, to decide whether in the present case the Chief Revenue Authority had reasonable grounds for being satisfied that a reference with regard to the question which had arisen was necessary sections of the Act which provided for the assessment of excess profits duty must be considered. Section 2 defined the accounting period, while Section 4 imposed a duty of 50 per cent. on the amount by which the profits in the accounting period exceed the standard profits. Section 6 subsections (a) and (b) prescribed various methods for calculating standard profits. If they were calculated under (b) there was a proviso that "if the average capital employed in the business in the years adopted for the purpose of determining the standard profits was less or more than the capital so employed at the end of the accounting period, there shall be made to or from the standard profits, an addition or deduction as the case may be, which shall bear to the standard profits the same proportion as such decrease or increase of capital bears to the average capital so employed in the years so adopted For the purpose of ascertaining the average capital, the capital employed in the business in any year shall be deemed the capital so employed at the end of that year." By sub-section 4 no increase of capital made after 31st December, 1918, was to be taken into account in any case and no such increase before that date was to be taken into account when it appeared, or to the extent to which it appeared that the increase was made with intent to evade or had the effect of evading the payment of the excess profits duty.

A CONCRETE INSTANCE.

To take, therefore, a concrete instance, if the standard profits are one lakh on an average capital of ten lakhs and the capital at the end of the accounting period was 20 lakhs then the standard profits would be increased to 2 lakhs. It was obvious then that the more the capital at the end of the accounting period could be increased the greater the addition to the standard profits with its corresponding decrease in the amount on which the excess profits duty would be levied.

Schedule II prescribed how capital was to be ascertained. Their Lordships referred to the clauses mentioned in the said schedule and said that the petitioners' balance-sheet for the year ending 31st December, 1918, showed a total of 119 lakhs odd for cash investments. No doubt a portion of that amount was required to meet recognised liabilities appearing on the other side of the balance-sheet, but it was equally clear that some portion of that amount represented accumulated profits for the years prior to the accounting period, for it was only by means of profits that the capital of a business could be increased, except by increasing the share capital which had not been done by the petitioners. Those profits which were not employed in the business would not be treated as capital for the purposes of the Act. There was nothing, therefore, with regard to the interpretation of schedule II which could give rise to any difficulty. Whether or not accumulated profits were employed in the business was a question of fact which the Chief Revenue Authority was entitled to decide on the materials before it. The petitioners claimed that the whole of their cash and investments were employed in the business. They made no attempt to assist one Collector or the Chief Revenue Authority in deciding how much was employed in the business with the result that a haphazard guess was made at the amount instead of employing proper accounting methods. The questions which the petitioners formulate in their letter to the Chief Revenue Authority were really questions for a chartered accountant and not questions with regard to the interpretation of the Act.

Their Lordships therefore held that the Chief Revenue Authority had reasonable ground for being satisfied that it was unnecessary to refer to the High Court the questions which had arisen with regard to the interpretations of the Act and the rule was accordingly discharged with costs.

CONVENTION OF U. P. COLLEGE STUDENTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

AGRA, Nov. 10.

The First Convention of the College Students of the United Provinces is holding meetings here. Total number of delegates sent from various college centres including Aligarh, Benares, Cawnpore, Allahabad and Meerut, is nearly 400. The President of Convention is Dr. Ganesh Prasad, of the Benares Hindu University. He opened the Convention with a speech on the creation and growth of Universities in Europe and Modern India. He explained how the oldest Universities of Europe, such as those of Berlin, Paris, Oxford and Cambridge, had come into existence without any charters, but had sought protection of their respective Government and then received charters. He said that in every civilized country, Government was bound to have some control over the Universities.

The speaker examined in detail, the history of the Cambridge University, which although practically free from Government control now, was not so in its earlier history, when the Royal injunctions for the control of administration and even the course of studies had been issued by Henry VIII, Elizabeth and others. It was pointed out that even now modern Universities in England were undtr Government control.

Turning to India, the Doctor said according to the accepted view of all progressive societies, a University ought to be a place of learning, where a corporation of scholars laboured in comradeship for the training of men and the advancement and diffusion of knowledge. According to that definition the speaker said that the Benares Hindu University was the only real University in India, others being really examination boards. The President then delivered a message of sympathy which he had brought from Pandit Madan Malaviya, as Vice-Chancellor of the Benares Hindu University. The discussions were animated but owing to tact and firmness of the President, complete order prevailed.

MR. MOHAMED ALI'S MESSAGE.

32 delegates have arrived now from Aligarh and Mr. Mohamed Ali has sent a long message to the President asking him to allow its being read out to the students at the Convention, but Dr. Ganesh Prasad has refused to comply with this request.

PIMPLES, BOILS & BLOTCHES.

A person suffering from eruptions of the skin has much to endure. It is not merely the discomfiture and irritation and painful sensation, but life is made miserable by depression of spirits. The liver is torpid and the kidneys are partially inoperative, and you feel languid and weak. The disease is in the blood, and when the system is not cleansed through the usual channels Nature asserts herself and forces portions of the impurities through the skin in the form of Pimples, Boils and Blotches. External remedies—powders, ointments, lotions—only alleviate; they do not get at the cause. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills get at the cause by removing the disease from the Blood. They cleanse the system by stimulating the liver and strengthening the kidneys which filter the Blood and drive out the impure matter through the bowels.

They are a perfect Blood Purifier and a positive and permanent cure for Biliousness, Indigestion, Constipation, Headaches, Sallow Complexion, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Piles, Pimples, Boils and Blotches, and for Female Ailments.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS are a purely vegetable sugar-coated medicinal preparation, carefully compounded by experts, and are manufactured on the premises under the direct supervision of the proprietors. The care taken in the production of these Pills is illustrated by the manner in which they are packed. Instead of being put up in cheap wooden boxes—that absorb poisonous and other substances—they are packed in glass bottles, at a cost of five or six times that of wooden boxes. The extra cost is more than made up in the satisfaction of knowing that the pills reach the public just as they left the laboratory, unaffected by moisture or climatic changes, and free from contamination by contact with any foreign matter.

Sold by all Chemists and Stores generally at R 1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for R 5.00, or will be forwarded on receipt of price by The W. H. COMSTOCK CO., LTD., 21 Farringdon Avenue, London.

Opinions of the Day.

In Defiance of British Labour.

"India".—We continue to receive reports of protests made by Labour organisations in this (United Kingdom) country against the use of Indian troops for the purpose of aiding capitalist aggression in various parts of Asia. The gift of 12,000 troops for use in Mesopotamia by the Maharaja of Kapurthala is specially the subject of condemnation. The secretary of the Twickenham Council of Action writes that at a meeting of the Council held on the 14th ult. such mischievous activities of Indian Princes were discussed, and the secretary was directed to communicate to this journal the opinion of the Council "that such action, though pleasing to the present administrators of this country, is in defiance of the opposition of British Labour and directly against the interests and expressed wishes of the masses of the population of Great Britain."

"The Independent".—We are resolved this time not to allow the new forces to be driven underground; and it is in this that our hope of better success lies. The Bengal covement was a provincial movement. The present movement is an All-India movement. This too must also makes a world of difference. The Bengal leaders from the very beginning tried to compromise with the Government. There is no room for such compromise in honet Non-Co-operation taken up deliberately as the only effective weapon of political warfare between a people and their Government. Above all, there are no proprietors of profitable educational institutions affiliated to the Universties in the leadership of the present National Education movement. We have therefore greater assurance of success now than our Bengal friends had fifteen years ago. We too believe with the "Bongalee" that it is the beginning of the end, but not of us, but of the forces that stand in the way of the fullest realisation of our holy Nationhood.

An Indefensible Order.

"The Tribune".—We have no hesitation in saying that the action of the Bengal Government in regard to the editor of the "Seasat" is illiberal, indefensible and highly inexpedient. The editor has himself pointed out that as he was disinterned under the Royal Proclamation and as "the order of disternment stated in the clearest possible language that I could go wherever I liked," his recent presence in Calcutta was not against any orders of the Government, and that he still considers himself at liberty to go to Bengal if circumstances require his presence there. But apart from this aspect of the matter, what is one to think of a warning like this which follows instead of preceding the prohibited action? There were three courses [illegible] only three open to the Bengal Government; either to cancel the order before Mr. Habib actually went to Calcutta, or to proceed against him for violating the order, or to treat the order as virtually cancelled. The one course which was not open to the Bengal Government is the course which it has actually taken.

Why Not Control Governor?

"New India".—In every Council or Assembly under the Reform Act there will be an elected majority. The will of the people as expressed by their representatives is checked by one person alone—by the Governor. Although the Secretary of State and Parliament retain ultimate legal power, even to withdraw the powers already given, they are at a distance and nothing short of universal violence would lead to their intervention. For practical purposes the Governor alone represents the powers of the old regime. Why not control the Governor? It is well known that before an ambassador is appointed, his name is submitted for the approval of the foreign power. Why should not the names of the proposed Governors or Viceroys be sent to the Indian Ministers for approval or rejection? Nothing further is required to turn the administration under the Reforms Act into real Swaraj, to place India in exactly the same position as the Dominions.

Fighting Famine.

The "Madras Mail".—According to recent Shanghai papers, an effective movement has been made towards fighting the famine in North China. The relief organisations are marshalling their forces into something approaching efficiency and funds are coming in freely; but what is most needed is a central body to direct and control relief operations. The importance of such a body is emphasised by the fact that a good deal of uncertainty exists as to the relief work actually in progress and to the indecision shown in the disposal of funds which are available, the machinery for collection being at present much more efficient than that for distribution. The Government remain indifferent and the efforts of the public, mostly foreigners, are hampered by the knowledge that they dare not employ official channels for the distribution of relief for fear that the money will find its way into the pockets of corrupt officials instead of those who really need it. "There is no ground for supposing," says the 'North China Herald,' "that Peking will surpass itself (on this occasion) in anything but culpable negligence. If the Government do eventually display any real, practical sense of their grave responsibility, we shall be agreeably surprised.'

TERRORISM IN GALWAY

FLOGGING BY POLICE.

"BRUISES AND CUTS PLAIN TO SEE."

VICTIMS INTERVIEWED.

The Special correspondent of the "Manchester Guardian," at Galway, writing in Mail week says:—

In the message which you printed a week ago I drew attention to the new form which the reprisal spirit is taking in Ireland. The sacking of town has given way to the burning or bombing of selected houses and to a general policy of terrorism, the inhabitants of a countryside by random shooting and intimidation of individuals. These two features are so well marked and so widespread that a common origin is inevitably suggested—an origin in the head of some misguided exponent of the theory that Sinn Feinn is nothing but the creed of a "murder gange" and that it can only be put down by the adoption of some of its own methods. This homœopathic policy has gone farthest in county Galway, where in the last five or six weeks there have been almost daily exhibitions of terrorism by the Crown's servants: one or two men have been shot without a shadow of excuse, and there are at the moment five men lying in hospital here from wounds inflicted by the police in circumstances which preclude any questions of provocation.

One says nothing of the military measures in Galway. They are inconvenient—the passengers on the train by which one travelled from Dublin yesterday were searched at Ballinasloe and Athenry and their papers gone through—but they are courteously administered. The trouble has come from the police, with this fresh side, that the new auxiliary force of the Royal Irish Constabulary Cadets, which the Government has been so careful to distinguish from the Black-and-Tans, are earning for themselves an equally bad name for irresponsibility and lawlessness.

Since a few days after the reprisals on September 8. when the old police broke out and shot the Volunteer Quirke in revenge for the death of one of their comrades, the force here has been strengthened by the introduction of detachments of the special auxiliary—"pound-a-day sergeants," as they are called.—who are recruited from English ex-officers. They have introduced into the country quite new principles of police duty which have as their frankly avowed aim to make the public espousal of Republicanism a danger and to compel by threat and cruelty all prominent Volunteers to leave the district. The new principles were first seen in the bombing of the houses, shops, and offices of leading Sinn Feiners, which went on nightly for a fortnight in October. They were then applied to the sparse countryside. Yesterday and to-day one has inquired carefully into some of the more flagrant examples that have occured during the past few days. It was an inquiry which involved covering many miles of rough, barren country and visiting many scattered farms and cottages to find in their homes or at their work the people who had been the victims of the new terror. The facts one gives below are from the testimony of actual sufferers and eye-witnesses, and not mere heresay stories. First, three cases which occurred within three miles of each other in a district fifteen miles north of Galway may be taken.

THREF BROTHERS FLOGGED.

On Staturday night about half-past eleven two lorries full of uniformed men drew up on the roadside at Corbally. Their occupants dismounted, and walked across rough field paths for a mile to the isolated farmhouse of Mrs. Feeney. They surrounded the house and clamoured for admission at both the back and front doors. One of Mrs. Feeney's sons. Thomas, had gone upstairs to bed; the rest of the family, Mrs. Feeney and her three other sons, were preparing to go, having just ended the recital of the Rosary They opened the doors, and the kitchen filled with armed men wearing Scotch caps—the distinctive mark of the cadets,—some with blackened faces and all armed. They searched the house, breaking open two boxes and two trunks in the bedrooms. The four sons were taken outside. Thomas the eldest, told me he was caught by the hair of the head as he reached the bottom of the stairs and accused of being a "notorious rebel," and of being a Volunteer. "You have had your day," he was told, "now it is ours." He and his brothers were put against a wall and threatened.

Thomas and Martin were taken into a field, ordered to lower their trousers, while a number of blows were struck with a rope on the bare skin. Something which he thought was a rope was put round Thomas' neck, and he was thrown over a wall into a cabbage patch. His head was badly cut—whether by falling on a stone or from a direct blow, he was not sure—and bled profusely. An attempt was made to pull him back over the wall, but he managed to free himself. Martin was then thrown over the wall, and shots fired into the air after him. William was hit on the right ear by a rifle butt, and dropped to the ground, stunned. All three were kicked. Patrick, a boy of 16, was not struck. When I saw the young men yesterday the three elder ones bore unmistakable traces of their ill-treatment the bruises and cuts being plain to see. At the back of the house were two bicycles which the raiders had completely smashed up with an iron boot-last that they had broken in the process.

From the Feeny's house the lorries appear to have gone on three miles to Corofin, where they drew up after one o'clock on Sunday morning at the licensed grocer's shop of Patrick Raferty. They knocked at the door and demanded drink. Raferty dressed and came down and supplied them. When they finished they took him on one of the lorries to a spot mile away, where he was beaten. He was taunted with gibes about his Sinn Feinn sympathies and put up against a wall, which gave way, and he fell over into a ditch against nettles and thistles. He was then made to crawl along the road, beaten all the time with rope. He was laid flat on the ground and hit, while a man held his legs. He was put against a wall between two men with revolvers who fired shots over his shoulder. He was then allowed to walk home.

ANOTHER BEATING.

On Sunday evening another beating took place outside Varden's public-house, at Cummer, on the main road between Galway and Taum. About half-past six 15 or 16 young men were standing about the house when two motor lorries of men, mostly in R. I. C. uniform, came up. The men ran and took shelter in the haggard or shed behind the house. The police stopped, called on the men to come out, searched them but found nothing, and asked whether they were not Volunteers on police duty. Some of the men were ordered to let down their trousers, and were thrashed on the high road; others were ordered to take off their coats and waistcoats before being thrashed. Three of the four youths I saw yesterday had been in the former plight, one in the latter. One of them named Dowd had his nose injured by a blow from a policeman's first, his brother was beaten with an ashplant. A youth named MacDonagh was whipped, while another kicked or "used a shoe to me." MacDonagh told me he had 16s. 6d. in his pocket when he has searched, but could find only 10s. afterwards. Others spoke of money being scattered on the road. A young man named Michael Welby left the public-house a minute or so before the trouble, and while crossing a field was shot at by the police, the bullet entering his back. He now lies at home in a rather serious condition. Before reaching Varden's public-house the police fired shots at a cottage door and wounded a young woman, Miss Glynn, on the left leg as she was just leaving the house. The shots were evidently fired from a shot-gun, for when I visited the house to-day the marks of the pellets were to be seen on the door jamb.

In none of the cases here reported, except that of Welby, was serious injury inflicted. What one wishes to draw attention to is the method of "punishment" which is, to say the least, brutal and unpleasant. In no single instance, as far as one can gather, was there provocation or motive for the drastic treatment, except that the men were known Volunteers or Sinn Feiners—in the present state of the west it would be the exception to find one who was not. A further message will describe some more serious cases of ill-treatment by the Galway police.

HOW TO GET RID OF INDIGESTION.

Most people who suffer from indigestion, gastritis, dyspepsia, etc.,—even those who have been afflicted for years and who have tried various medicines without permanent benefit—can get quick relief and ensure painless, normal digestion by taking half a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia in a little hot water immediately after eating. Bisurated Magnesia neutralises stomach acid and stops food fermentation, thus giving nature a chance to proceed with its work without hindrance. Bisurated Magnesia is obtainable from any chemist, and if the directions given are followed carefully relief is assured and immediate, while in chronic cases a little perseverance will result in establishing permanent benefit, and eventually restore the stomach to a normal condition, with gratifying effects on the general tone and health of the whole system.

Bisurated Magnesia is one of the best remedies for Indigestion, and is also obtainable in tablet form. Beware of substitutes. Look for the makers' name, BISMAG LIMITED, which appears on every genuine package.

FORCIBLE EJECTION OF M. ALI.

QUESTIONABLE TACTICS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)
ALIGARH, Nov. 10.

Copy has, at last, been obtained of the complaint made in the court of the District Magistrate by the Honorary Secretary Aligarh College. It runs as follows:

"In consequence of the visit of Messrs. Gandhi, Mohamed Ali and Shaukat Ali the situation in the College is becoming hourly more grave as is well known to all. Latest information leads us to believe that not only the traditions and discipline of the institution have been ruined, but properties and building are being taken possession of and are in danger of damage. All authority of the Syndicate, Secretary and Principal has been defied and the appeal of Old Boys for peaceful withdrawal has failed. All our peaceful endeavours having failed, we are compelled to apply; for Government protection. Therefore, with the authority of the Syndicate of the College, I apply to you to take necessary steps to eject the trespassers and stop outsider from coming into the College or School buildings, or grounds and other properties appertaining there to.'

It will be noted the complainant mentions no individual as guilty of any illegality nor does he even assert possession has definitely been taken of the building. He does not specify what other property of the College is being taken possession of and what damage is apprehended, but appealing vaguely for Government protection, he applies for ejection of the trespassers and stoppage of outsiders from coming into the College, School buildings, or grounds. It must also be noted that the District Magistrate when ejecting Maulana Mohamed Ali thought fit to tell him that Government did not mind how much anyone abused it, but the moment any private person's right were trenched upon Government stepped in and said. "You shall not . . ." To this the Maulana had replied both he and Mr. Campbell knew what Government was and what Government minded and what it did not and that further explanation of Government's ways and notions was unnecessary. The District Magistrate, however, had assured the Maulana that Government had given him no instruction and he had been wiring it only. the state of affairs, but he added at 8 on previous night he received a formal complaint from the Honorary Secretary and had to take action that he was taking.

After this preliminary explanation, the readers will themselves be in a position to judge of the absolute disinterestedness of the District Magistrate's action in forcibly evicting under a provision of law namely Section 144 Criminal Procedure Code, which in no way authorises it; not an outsider but a co-trustee of the complainant from buildings neither of the College, nor of the School, but of the Old Boys' Association as an independently registered body of which he was member, while the Honorary Secretary himself was not and to whose property he could have free access without entering even the grounds in possession of the College. Following is the order passed on the complaint:

"Order under Section 144 C. P. C. whereas I, William E. M. Campbell, District Magistrate of Aligarh, have received information from the complaint by the College authorities that you M. Mohamed Ali and various associates of yours are trespassing upon the premises of the M. A. O. College and further that you are inciting students to remain illegally upon College premises after they have been ordered to leave by the duly constituted authority and to commit various illegal and violent acts, I hereby call upon you Mohamed Ali together with your associates to leave the College premises and to refrain from any act to incite students or others to further trespass illegal action or violence."

Recital of the so-called events, in the next order prohibiting the Maulana from holding public meetings covers still more ground, in as much as it is alleged there is a dispute as to the possession of the buildings of the College in which Maulana Mohamedali and his associates have committed various acts of criminal trespass and housebreaking and here is serious danger of disturbance to public tranquility, similarly in the order served on Maulana Shaukat Ali prohibiting him and his companion from making public speeches as well as holding public meetings. It is alleged students are incited to comit illegal acts to the annoyance of the owners and danger to the public tranquility. Comparison of the complaint with the recital of the so-called events in the three orders will disclose how far the complaint covered that recital or justified action in forcibly ejecting the Maulana from the Old Boys' Lodge, which is not as much as mentioned in the complaint.

NEW ALIGARH UNIVERSITY

MAHATMA GANDHI CONGRATULATES M. MAMOMED ALI.

(From a Correspondent.)
ALIGARH, Nov. 8.

The following is the copy of telegram received by Principal Mohomed Ali from Mahatma Gandhi "Shaukat Ali gave all information Arranging to send Andrews and a brilliant Hardward Graduate and Kirpalani of Hindu University. More can be sent if you need. Hearty congratulations yourself students. Hope same firm courteous peaceful behaviour will be retained throughout critical period. I would remind students of wish expressed when I first had pleasure meeting them Aligarh that they in order preserve honour dignity Islam and India should adopt high thinking and simplicity as their motto. Never has our country needed true fakirs and humility as now."

Maulana Mohamed Ali has replied thanking Mahatmaji on his own and his students behalf for his most encouraging messages and assuring him that already students have taken a step towards plain living by cutting down things from their menu which could be dispensed with without injury to health and therefore, fall under the class of luxury. All are anxious to follow in Manatmaji's footsteps in this and also in the matter of firm but courteous and peaceful behaviour and to add to reputation they have already gained as non-violent non-co-operation. Maulana trusts the provisional staff will join without delay as classes are already being opened.

CONTAI SENSATION.

MYSTERIOUS MOTOR PROSECUTIONS

CONTAI, Nov. 7.

The story is a long one but we shall very briefly describe only a part of all that has happened here up till to-day. The local sub-Deputy Collector did not pay his motor hire thrice and was therefore sued for the same in the local Munsiff's Court by the manager of the Hijli Contai Motor Company, Babu Aswini Kumar Sen who was till lately in the war service and whose satisfactory work there has been recognized even by the Government of India. The sub-divisional officer went futher. Not only did he draw up proceedings under Sec. 144 Cr. P. C. against the manager and forbid him to run his cars at night altogether, but prosecuted him under sec. 283 I.P.C. for obstructing a public pathway by keeping a car there on. It so happened that at or about this time, both the District Magistrate of Midnapore and the Divisional Commissioner visited this place and curiously enough the proceedings under Sec. 144 Cr. P. Code, as also the prosecution under Sec. 283 I.P.C. were dropped. The general belief is that the District Magistrate of Midnapore even privately advised the parties to amicably settle the civil suit, but the sub-Deputy Collector was at first unwilling to do so, and it was subsequently settled on payment of the dues some five months afterwards. Here ended the first part of the drama.

The next began with the establishment of a new motor company, known as Messrs. A. T. Ghosh and Co. at Contai. They obtained more than usual official patronage. Of course none could object to it. But it became clear that the old feeling of enmity between the local authorities and the manager of the old motor company soon revived. In the result, a Kaviraj preferred a complaint under Sec. 504 I.P.C. for intentional insult against Aswini Babu. And would it be believed the Sub-Divisional Officer at once issued a warrant of arrest against him for this although he was personally aware that Aswini Babu was not long ago a responsible Government servant. The began a series of extraordinary incidents. A servant of the new motor company instituted another case of intentianal insult against Aswini Babu, and a third case of rash driving was brought against Aswini Babu's brother by the second officer himself, during the pendency of the first two cases and within a fortnight of one another.

THE FINISHING TOUCH.

The finishing touch was, however, given by the District Engineer, Mr. N. N. Bose, when he quarelled wih Aswini Babu on the public road, while the latter was going to Midnapore to get his cases transferred from here. Man hopeth and some other disposeth. The whole plot was upset by the Additional District Magistrate transferring all the cases to his own file and fixing the 6th of October and Contai Road Station as the date and place of trial respectively of all those cases. Then happened another curious incident, worth mentioning. Just two days before the date of hearing (6-10 20.) of the said three cases at Contai Road Station, that some bridges and culverts on the District Board road were cracked and if the old company's bigger car was allowed to run over them, they would collapse and thus endanger human life. Thereupon, the second officer, purporting to act as the Sub-Divisional Officer, at once drew up exparte proceedings under Sec. 144 Cr. P. Code and got the same served upon some of the men of the company on the early morning of the 5th of October last, just the day previous to the date of hearing of the three transferred cases.

The order directed them not to run their only car them in use and the feeling of the company's men can better be imagined than described. They had to take their witnesses to Contai Road Station, 36 miles off. for the trial of their cases next day and they were now forbidden to run their only car! The Additional District Magistrate, however, held his Court at Contai Road Station on the 6th of October as previously arranged and in the end discharged the accused in all the three cases of international insult and rash driving.

The wrath of the officials knew no bounds now. They formed and fretted when they further found that the order under Sec. 144 Cr. P. C. had been disregarded by the company, and within a space of about 10 days from the said orders of discharge by the A.D.M. no less than 18 cases under Sec. 188 I.P.C. (disobedience to lawful order), were instituted by the second officer in the Court of the Sub-Divisional Officer against Aswini Babu and his two brothers, their personal recognizance and bail bonds amounting to about Rs. 5,000 in all. It is believed, moreover, that a large number of cases under Sec. 188 are still to come on.—"The A. B. Patrika."

Britain's Bonniest Babies

are GLAXO Babies !

Infant Welfare Centres have been formed all over Great Britain to help mothers rear better babies. An official government list recently published gives the addresses of 1,517 Centres. Over 1,200 such Centres are regularly purchasing sufficient Glaxo (nearly a quarter of a million pounds weight every month) to feed continuously over 50,000 babies—and this as the result of more than 12 years' experience under expert medical observation.

H.M. Government purchased nearly 10,000,000 lbs. weight of

A.-I. AND D. EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION.

LIEUT. COL. GIDNEY AT NAGPUR.

An "At Home" was held recently at the Nagpur Rifles Club in honour of the visit of Lieut.-Col. Gidney. Nearly every Anglo-Indian and Domiciled European was present. Lieut.-Col. Gidney in his speech dwelt on his past activities and his proposals for the future good of the Community. Col. Gidney spoke also on politics and referred to the National Congress, which at first was laughed at, taunted, threatened and then later respected and now feared. The Indian, he said, was a man wide awake while the European is asleep and the Anglo-Indian is snoring. Unless the Anglo-Indian wakes up from his slumber he will soon belong to a depressed class. He must take his place in this country and that soon, otherwise the future generations will suffer. Another great drawback is the absolute lack of unity and co-operation. Col. Gidney is striving hard to bring about one General Central Council for all India. He wants the membership and co-operation of every man, woman and child of the Community; he does not want the Community to claim superiority or to recognise inferiority, but to claim a distinct existence and to refuse absolutely to be intruded upon by the would-be Anglo-Indian.

The following resolution was passed by members of the Association:—"We members of the Anglo-Indian and Domiciled European Association do hereby accord Col. Gidney our unanimous confidence and support as President-in Chief of the Association and the fittest representative of the Community on the Imperial Legislative Assembly, being perfectly sure that he and he alone will and can do the community real lasting good."

SURAT NEWS.

AN "EMINENTLY SUCCESSFUL MEETING"

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

The Hon. Purushotamdas, the Hon. Sir Chimanlal Setalwad and Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas came down to Surat or were rather invited to preach the gospel of co-operation. A meeting, or truly speaking private gathering, was arranged in the Naginbhand Institute and people who were especially invited were allowed to enter the Hall. The organisers kept a keen watch and Rao Bahadurs Thakorram, Khandubhai and Mr. C. M. Gandhi personally inspected the cards. Thus were the doors closed against the public, and the learned lecturers gave full expression to their feelings before an audience composed mostly of pensioners, Government Officers and Police Constables. Thus it was that the meeting was "eminently successful".

The leaders of the Non-Cooperation movement were equally anxious to see that the scenes enacted at Bombay, at the time of Mrs. Besant's lecture, should not be repeated in Surat. Hence they arranged a mass meeting in the Maidan not far off from the Institute. The Collector of Surat is to be congratulated on his taking no active measures to prevent this meeting and thus succeeded where his colleague of Broach District failed. This meeting of the non-cooperationists was attended by nearly ten thousand people. Resolutions expressing deep sympathy for the bereaved family of the late heroic Lord Mayor of Cork and for not celebrating the Diwali festival were adopted and the meeting was over late at night with the enthusiastic peals of Vande-Mataram.

BENARAS UNIVERSITY'S POSITION.

PANDIT MALAVIYA'S SPEECH.

The following is a full report of the address delivered by Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya to the students of the Benares Hindu University on November 1:

The Pandit deplored the fact that though Hindus had ruled over India for thousands of years with great success, yet at the time the Mahomedans invaded the country the feeling of patriotism and nationality was not sufficiently strong to unite all Hindu Princes and people in a national resistance to keep out the invader. He deplored the fact that at the time of the last battle of Panipat, again the same sad cause led to the defeat of the Mahrattas. The weakness of the feeling of patriotism and nationality among Indians again enabled a handful of English merchants who had come to trade with India and who possessed intelligence, patriotism and a power of organisation, to establish their rule in India. Englishmen themselves wondered why Indians should have so easily submitted to their rule and it really filled the Pandit with grief and shame to think that the feeling of patriotism and nationality had become so weak among them as to lead them to be content under a foreign rule. He believed they had been placed under such rule in order that they might be roused to regain their position.

India had suffered many disadvantages under British rule. But it had gained one great advantage. England had introduced India to familiarity with her glorious literature which was instinct with the love of freedom and idea of self-government. The despatch of 1854 was a noble document, and though the system of education introduced by Government was defective in many respects, they owed a great deal to it and should ever feel grateful for it. Those who had worked for India's uplift during the last sixty years were all products of that system. The uniformity in laws and administration, the legislative councils, the newspaper press, the taxes, and the common national disabilities to which they had been subjected, had all contributed to strengthen the feeling of patriotism and nationality among them.

The Pandit was grieved to think that even after having been brought into close familiarity with the liberty-inspiring literature of England and with the English people, Indians had not developed such a virile feeling of patriotism and nationality as would make them passionately desire and work for the early establishment of their own rule in their country even as Englishmen ruled in their own island home. For sixty years since India passed under the British Crown, the best of Indians had relied upon the pledges contained in the Act of 1833 and the Proclamation of 1858 and all their efforts had been directed towards getting England to fulfil those pledges. Those pledges had been very partially fulfilled.

England had no doubt declared that the establishment of responsible Government was the goal of British policy in India. But the reforms introduced were inadequate. Even so, they had agreed at the Amritsar Congress to work those reforms in order to secure full responsible Government. But the attitude of the Government in the Punjab affairs and in the matter of the Khilafat, their attitude in the matter of the admission of Indians into the Army, and on many other administrative matters, had driven the conviction into his mind that the honour and interest of India demanded that full responsible Government under the British Crown should be established in India at the earliest possible date.

NON-CO-OPERATION.

That was the conviction now of an increasing number of thoughtful men in India. The problem before them was how to attain that object. His esteemed brother, Mr. Gandhi, had advocated a policy of non-co-operation. He did not believe that non-co-operation would ever secure such a thorough revision of the terms of the Turkish Treaty as Mr. Gandhi and the Khilafat Committee desired. The only way in which they could help their Mahomedan fellowmen both in Turkey and in Mesopotamia, etc., was by obtaining the full power of Government in their own hands in India. In the matter of the Punjab Mr. Gandhi's Committee had recommended that the present Viceroy should be recalled. If he was recalled, who would say with confidence that the gentlemen who would succeed him would be very much better than he? The same Committee had also recommended that certain Punjab officials who had been guilty of gross outrages should be dismissed. If the Government accepted those recommendations, it would no doubt have been a triumph of public opinion. But if those half a dozen officials were dismissed, he thought there would still be several hundreds of officials in service who agreed with the policy of O'Dwyer and Dyer and of those who had raised a fund for Dyer.

The best revenge for the wrongs perpetrated on the Punjab and the surest safeguard against their repetition as also the truest guarantee that Indian honour and interests shall be duly protected by the Government of India in future, could only be found in the establishment of full responsible government. This could only be achieved by a mighty national endeavour. They had to make patriotism their religion as the Japanese had done. They had to inoculate the whole people, men and women, old and young with a passionate desire for Swaraj. They had to educate them to establish the conditions and to make the sacrifices which were essential to its achievement. They had to promote national unity of thought and action and to promote national efficiency in every possible way so far as it lay in their power.

There need be no hatred of the Englishmen in their programme. They themselves were far more to blame for their present position than the Englishmen. The first step in this programme was to organise a vigorous propaganda on an adequate scale all over the country to educate the people on this question of Swaraj, and to reservering the Congress on a thoroughly representative basis. This meant tremendous, hard, perserving work and involved immense self-sacrifice. But it must be done as it was the sine qua non of success.

OPPOSED TO THE BOYCOTT.

Non-co-operation was a great weapon, but as in the case of a powerful medicine its usefulness and efficacy depended upon the time when and the measure and conditions in which it was used. It should not be resorted to where it would not achieve the end which was desired but injure those who used it. He was opposed to Mr. Gandhi's view regarding the boycott of Councils. He was even then of opinion that it would have been wiser to capture the largest number of seats and to use the Councils for the purposes of accelerating the establishment of Swaraj or full responsible government under the British Crown, withdrawing in a body from them whenever it became necessary to do so. He was wholly opposed to the withdrawing of boys and girls from schools and colleges.

Education was in charge of an Indian Member in the Government of India. It would be in charge of Indian Ministers in the Provinces. Ninety-five per cent. of the teachers employed in schools and colleges were Indians. Of the Europeans so engaged some were certainly sympathetic. Who would not welcome a man of the views of their esteemed friend, Mr. Andrews? He knew they all welcomed Mr. King, Principal of their Engineering College. The Pandit was clearly of opinion that no European should be employed in any of their schools or colleges who did not regard Indians as equal fellow-subjects, and who did not respect the honour, life and liberty of Indians as he respected his own.

He was also totally opposed to giving up Government grants-in-aid. The money Government spent on education was their own money contributed by them in the shape of various taxes and duties. None of it came from England. They were entitled to get more of it to spend on education as they thought best. It would be utter unwisdom to give up that little they were receiving. The grant given to the Hindu University had been given unasked and without any condition whatever. Considering how largely Government had helped the creation and the building up of the University it would have been ungracious to refuse the offer. Besides such refusal would have resulted in much other aid not coming to the University.

He did not agree with the proposal that they should tear up the University Act. The fact that the University was established under the Act of the Government did not by itself make it open to objection. The Railways, Posts and Telegraphs were established under Acts of Government. The King's coins and notes were issued under such Acts. In all important cities and towns our houses had been built under Municipal Acts. They did not discard them. Why then should we abandon a University merely because it was established by an Act of Government?

A modicum of power was no doubt reserved under the Act to the Government to interfere with the working of the University in certain circumstances. But as a matter of fact the Government had never interfered, and he felt confident that the University authorities would never lack so much in wisdom and educational integrity as to give any opportunity to Government to interfere. Not only had the Government never interfered with their work but it had accepted every proposal for changes in the Regulations, etc., and acceded to every other request made on behalf of the University.

THE FREEST UNIVERSITY IN INDIA.

As a matter of fact the Hindu University was the freest University in British India. It prescribed its own courses, appointed its own professors and examiners, conferred its own degrees. Its Chancellor, Pro-Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, and Pro-Vice Chancellor were all Indian. If there were defects in its management or deficiences to make up—and of these there were many—they themselves were responsible for them. Those were in no way due to the fact that the University was established and was being worked under an Act of Government. They were free to teach patriotism as well as religion. He desired to have a national anthem prepared which would remind their youth of their glorious past, and inspire them with a virile desire to build up a glorious future. He was sure that University authorities would gladly lay down that the whole college should come such an anthem every day after the usual College prayer.

The Government would never object to their teaching patriotism on sound and healthy lines. If it did, he felt sure his colleagues and he would not agree with it, and if the Government would stop the grant for that reason he had no doubt that the Hindu community would make up for it. He would have the national anthem sung in all their schools and colleges and the teaching imparted in them supplemented by regular lessons in patriotism.

They should take a lesson from the teachings of the Sikh Gurus. The Sikhs objected to eat food which had been cooked by Mahomedans. The Gurus laid down that when they were engaged in a war they could purify the food by touching it with a particular article and reciting the formula vah guru ki fateh (Victory to the blessed Guru). Instead of boycotting the schools and colleges, let them supplement and enrich the education given in them, adding courses in religion and patriotism. Instead of spending great sums of money and energy in creating new institutions he would in this manner make all our educational institutions national in every sense, and boycott only those which would object to provide for the teaching of patriotism.

Patriotism was taught in schools and colleges in every civilised country. So should it be in India, so that every boy and girl should grow up with the determination to establish and maintain Swaraj—the rule of Indians in India, and to win for India her proper place in the comity of nations.
